(a)	the calling of meetings, and	17
(b)	the conduct of business at the meetings, and	18
(c)	the disclosure of pecuniary interests.	19
(2)	The Advisory Board must meet at least 4 times each calendar year.	20
	Part 1C Complaints	21
4M	Making complaint about lobbying	22
(1)	A person may make a complaint to the Commission about lobbying.	23
(2)	A complaint must—	24
(a)	be in writing, and	25
(b)	identify the person making the complaint, and	26
(c)	identity the lobbyist and public official involved in the lobbying.	27
4N	Commissioner may make complaint	28
	The Commissioner may make a complaint, but only if the Commissioner is satisfied the subject matter of the complaint is a matter of public interest.	29 30
4O	Investigating complaint	31
(1)	The Commission may investigate a complaint or decide that a complaint need not be investigated.	32 33
(2)	The Commission may discontinue an investigation.	34
(3)	When investigating a complaint the Commission must ensure that the identity of the person who made the complaint, or information that might identify the person, is not disclosed unless the Commission is satisfied—	35 36 37
(a)	proper investigation of the complaint requires disclosure of the information, and	38 39
(b)	there is an overriding public interest in the investigation of the complaint.	40 41

4P Outcome of investigations

- (1) At the end of an investigation, the Commission may take one or more of the following actions—
 - (a) if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a lobbyist may have contravened the Lobbying Code of Conduct—suspend or cancel the lobbyist’s registration,
 - (b) if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a person referred to in the definition of public official, paragraph (a), (b) or (c) may have contravened the Lobbying Code of Conduct—refer the Commission’s findings to the Presiding Officers of the Parliament,
 - (c) if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a person referred to in the definition of public official, paragraph (d) or (e) may have contravened the Lobbying Code of Conduct—refer the Commission’s findings to the head of the Public Service agency concerned,
 - (d) if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a person referred to in the definition of public official, paragraph (f) or (g) may have contravened the Lobbying Code of Conduct—refer the Commission’s findings to the Minister administering the Act under which the person was appointed,
 - (e) if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a person referred to in the definition of public official, paragraph (h) may have contravened the Lobbying Code of Conduct—refer the Commission’s findings to the Minister administering the Local Government Act 1993,
 - (f) if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a person referred to in the definition of public official, paragraph (i) or (j) may have contravened the Lobbying Code of Conduct—refer the Commission’s findings to the Mayor of the relevant local council.
- (2) At any point in an investigation the Commission may, if the Commission is reasonably satisfied a lobbyist or public official may have committed an offence under this Act or another law, refer the matter to the Director of Public Prosecutions.
- (3) The Commission must report an action taken under this section to the Joint Committee.

4Q Duty to report corrupt conduct

If, at any point in an investigation, the Commission suspects on reasonable grounds the complaint may concern corrupt conduct under the Independent Commission Against Corruption Act 1988, the Commission must report the suspicion to ICAC.

Note— See the Independent Commission Against Corruption Act 1988, section 11.
